

Advanced supervision groups

The advanced supervision groups give you an opportunity to continue your development as an educator, coach, consultant or manager or as a TA exam candidate in the counselling, educational or organizational fields.

There are supervision days every few weeks that are attended by both exam candidates and people who want continuous education in their field. The goal is integration of theory into practice and personal and professional development.

During the advanced supervision days you will be able to:

- Attend mini-lectures to deepen your learning
- Explore new and emerging ideas in TA
- Get supervision or coaching
- Present your audio tapes and , cases and written work for review
- Do mock exams
- Meet and exchange with other trainees
- And much more depending on your requests...
